

I travel by car a lot for my business. I have come to rely heavily on satellite radio for the local traffic and weather in a place that I am not familiar with. By easily dialing in the city I get the information I need when I need it. No fumbling around with the local channels and poor reception. If the NAB is allowed to quash this ability, we all lose.

Thank you,
David Fuller